

1 VOCABULARY sounds and the human voice

a Circle the correct word.

- The children ran out of the room because of the large bee hissing / buzzing around the window.
- She was banging / tapping her finger on the table, waiting for her brother to answer his phone.
- There was a loud bang / slam as the fireworks went off.
- I can't stand people who slurp / drip their soup when they eat it.
- I had to get up and lock the door because it was hooting / rattling in the wind.
- The cat arched its back and hissed / whistled at us as we walked in.
- The engine crashed / roared to life when he turned it on.
- Omar has a cold, so he's been snoring / sniffing all day.
- The little girl liked the way the candy splashed / crunched in her mouth.
- It was so quiet in the room that you could hear the ticking / clicking of the clock.
- We heard the screeching / creaking of tires as Becca's boyfriend drove up the driveway.
- After the argument, Carl stormed out of the room and slammed / hummed the door.

b Complete the sentences with the verbs in the list.

giggled	groaned	mumbled	screamed	sighed
sobbed	stuttered	whispered	yelled

- "STOP MAKING SO MUCH NOISE!" the old man yelled from an upstairs window.
- "What did you do this time?" _____ Stephen's mother with resignation.
- "My new doll is broken," _____ the little girl, tears rolling down her cheeks.
- "My ankle hurts," the player _____ as he lay on the ground.
- "There's a spider in the bathtub!" my sister _____ in horror.
- "I didn't have t-t-time to do my h-h-homework," Phil _____ nervously.
- Half way through the exam, David _____ to Alison, "What's the answer to number 5?"
- "Look at her hat!" the students _____. "It looks really funny."
- "Sorry," he _____, but nobody could understand what he said.

2 PRONUNCIATION consonant clusters

a 4.1 Listen and write the missing words with consonant clusters.

- Some of the pictures on display have been lent by other galleries.
- It's always a good idea to _____ before and after exercise.
- "What a wonderful surprise," she _____.
- My son failed his driving test for the _____ time!
- We're going to IKEA to get some new _____ for my study.
- The best speech was the one given by the _____.
- We _____ out the map on the dining room table, and planned our route.
- The man _____ the burglar in the nose.

b Practice saying the sentences in a.

3 LEXIS IN CONTEXT

I have a phobia of sound

Look at the Lexis in Context on Student Book p.36. Then complete the words.

- The passengers wanted to know why the train had stopped so abruptly.
- It can be very tiring being with my brothers because they are c _____ arguing.
- He had been studying for months, so he passed his exams w _____ e _____.
- St _____, I actually like commuting: it gives me some valuable time to myself.
- The area has a number of Italian restaurants i _____ close pr _____ to each other.
- Her s _____ stupid question produced an extremely useful answer.
- I try to avoid giving my neighbor a lift because she chatters i _____ the whole trip.

4 GRAMMAR speculation and deduction

- a Complete the mini-dialogues using must / might / could / may / can't or should and the correct form of the verbs in parentheses.

- 1 A Jessica's looking happy with herself.
B Yes. She must have done well on her job interview. (do)
- 2 A Where's Eve? She said to meet her outside the subway station.
B I guess she _____ at a different entrance. (wait)
- 3 A Carlos left work about an hour ago.
B Yes, he _____ here by now. It only takes 20 minutes. (be)
- 4 A How about this dress for your cousin?
B I don't know. I've never seen her in a dress. She _____ it. (not like)
- 5 A My brother's in his room doing his homework.
B Well, he _____. I can hear him talking on the phone! (study)
- 6 A Jason isn't answering his phone.
B Well, he's gone swimming and _____ it with him to the pool. (not take)
- 7 A My assistant is sick today.
B Well, he _____ anything serious. I just saw him playing tennis. (have)
- 8 A Tony didn't show up at the party. He _____ about it. (forget)
B Yes, he's very absentminded.

- b Complete the second sentence using the bold word so that it means the same as the first.

- 1 I don't think Luke will pass his driver's test. probably Luke probably won't pass his driver's test.
- 2 I'm sure we'll win the game. bound
We _____
- 3 I'm sure you'll enjoy the movie. definitely
You _____
- 4 I don't think it'll rain tonight. likely
It _____
- 5 They probably won't agree to our proposal. unlikely
They _____
- 6 My father is likely to take early retirement. probably
My father _____
- 7 Your parents will almost certainly complain about it. sure
Your parents _____
- 8 The manager is sure not to give us a pay raise. definitely
The manager _____

5 LISTENING

- a 4.2 Listen to someone talking about the percussionist Evelyn Glennie. In what way is she an unusual musician?

- b Listen again and complete the summary.

Evelyn Glennie was born in Aberdeen, Scotland. She studied at the Royal Academy of Music. She has been performing for more than ¹ _____ years, and plays ² _____ different percussion instruments. She not only plays and records classical and pop music, but has also composed several movie ³ _____. Evelyn finds it frustrating that journalists often write about her ⁴ _____ more than her music. She thinks that there is no real difference between hearing and ⁵ _____ a vibration. Evelyn never wears ⁶ _____ when she performs, in order to feel the vibrations of her instruments.

- c Listen again with the audioscript on p.72 and try to guess the meaning of any words that you don't know. Then check in your dictionary.

6 READING

- a Read the article once. What is piped music? According to the writer, in which place might piped music have the most serious consequences?

Silence is golden

You hear it everywhere: in stores, restaurants, and hotels, in the plane, on the train, or on the bus. It comes at you unexpectedly down the phone, and it's even on television ruining perfectly decent shows. This unsolicited noise is, of course, piped music, an incessant jingle that is almost impossible to escape.

Contrary to popular belief, it appears that more people dislike this kind of music than actually appreciate it. In a poll carried out by a British newspaper, piped music came in third on the list of things people most detested about modern life. (The first two most hated things were other forms of noise.) What is more, a recent survey about shopping habits shows that at least 50 percent of customers would walk out of a store that had piped music. With figures like these, there can be no doubt about the widespread aversion to the noise.

It is people with some kind of hearing impairment who suffer most from the din. This group includes the elderly, who often develop an age-related hearing problem called presbycusis. The condition prevents them from distinguishing the individual words of a conversation above the noise of any background music. As time goes by, they find it more and more difficult to interact. In fact, a 2013 survey commissioned by a British bank showed that around 61 percent of older people consider piped music in stores and banks their biggest pet peeve. The reason most of them gave was that it makes them feel alienated.

However, piped music may also be responsible for far more serious health problems. It has long been recognized that unwanted noise produces stress. The listener experiences a rise in blood pressure and a depression of the immune system. A survey of 215 blood donors at Nottingham University Medical School found that playing piped music made donors more nervous before giving blood. They also felt more depressed afterwards. These results suggest that a hospital might not be the right place to play this kind of sound.

Yet a care institution in London has recently announced that it is going to do just that. The hospital plans to introduce piped music into its Emergency Room to "calm distressed patients." The music will be provided by legendary musician Brian Eno, who has been supplying "ambient music" to airports for nearly four decades. The hospital's objective is to make the ER more patient-friendly, but it is likely to have quite the opposite effect.

Fortunately, help is at hand in the form of Pipedown, a campaign for freedom from piped music. The movement is pushing for legislation to ban its use in public places, especially in hospitals and doctors' offices where patients are in no position to argue or go somewhere else. If the campaign is successful, the London hospital will have to drop its plans. But for many, this will not be a bad thing.

- b Read the article again and mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

- 1 According to the writer, the main problem with piped music is you can't get away from it.
- 2 The results of the newspaper poll show that the top three annoyances are all noise-related.
- 3 Piped music encourages the majority of people to shop in a store.
- 4 Elderly people tend to dislike piped music because it's not their kind of music.
- 5 Piped music can help blood donors relax.
- 6 The writer thinks Brian Eno's music probably won't improve the atmosphere of an ER.
- 7 The main aim of the Pipedown campaign is to get rid of piped music in all public places.

- c Find words or phrases in the article that mean:

- 1 piped music
_____ music
_____ music
- 2 a recognizable tune that is easy to remember

- 3 a loud and unpleasant noise

