

7 Will we be famous?

Will and won't
Future time expressions

Will and won't

We use will and won't to talk about the future.

Affirmative = will or 'll + base form.

It will be warmer. We'll travel by rocket.

We often use the contracted form 'll after pronouns like I and you, and after there.

We'll eat better food. There'll be more pollution.

We make negatives with won't + base form.

People won't have big cars. Money won't be important.

We make questions with will + subject + base form.

Will the test be easy? Yes, it will. / No, it won't.

The forms will,
'll and won't
don't change.

We often use time expressions when we talk about the future. Here are some common future time expressions:

*next week next month next year next Tuesday next July this evening this afternoon this week this year on Monday
tomorrow
in a week's time in a month's time in a year's time*

When we talk about more than one day, week, month or year, we write the apostrophe after the noun.

in two months' time in a few years' time

To talk about something that will happen in the very near future, we use soon.

Will you write soon?

To talk about something that will happen on the same day, after a short time, we use later.

Jane will be here later.
