Read the film review.

Kit Kittredge: An American Girl is a comedy drama film. It is directed by Patricia Rozema. The main character is a ten-year-old girl called Kit Kittredge. Kit is played by Abbie Breslin. Her parents, Jack and Margaret, are played by Chris O'Donnell and Julia Ormond.

Kit and her family live in the USA in 1934. Kit wants to be a reporter. She writes lots of articles in the tree house in her garden. When some things are stolen in the town, Kit tries to find out who the thief is. People think that a boy called Will is the thief. Kit meets Will and they become friends. Kit is sure that Will is not the thief. But one day, a wooden box is stolen from Kit's mother and a footprint is found next to it. The footprint is from Will's boot. Kit and her friends have to find out who the real thief is before Will gets into a lot of trouble.

This film has a wonderful story. It is sometimes sad, but it is very exciting too. The acting in this film is amazing and some of the characters are very funny. Abbie Breslin's performance is fantastic. There is great music in the film, too. You can hear lots of nice old songs.

If you like drama films and stories about life in the past, you will love Kit Kittredge: An American Girl. It's a perfect film for all the family.

Is it good to be famous?

by Andy Lewis

Today, there are lots of famous people. We can read about them in newspapers and magazines and we can watch them on TV. Many people think that famous people have wonderful lives, but I believe that it is sometimes difficult to be famous.

Firstly, famous people are always in the news. In my opinion, this is very difficult, because it means they can't live normal lives. It seems to me that every time a famous person leaves their house, a photographer is waiting to take a photo of them. Also, I think that famous people always have to think about the things they say and do. They know that everything they do will appear in the news, so they have to be very careful.

Famous people have a lot of money. They can live in beautiful houses and travel all over the world. Also, it's true that for most celebrities, being famous is a choice. I don't think that actors and singers should complain about being in the news, because that is part of their job. But famous writers, scientists and artists don't always want to be famous. They want to help the world and they become famous because of their good work.

In conclusion, I think that famous people often have problems, because people are watching them all the time. However, I don't believe that being famous is all bad. After all, most famous people enjoy exciting and interesting lives.
