Flowers for Mum

Ellie woke up very early in the morning. She knew it was a special day, but she couldn't remember why it was special. She looked in her diary. It was Mother's Day! Ellie was worried. She hadn't got her mum any flowers. "I hope Tom and Dad have remembered Mother's Day," she thought.

Ellie ran downstairs to the kitchen. There were no flowers on the table. She looked in the dining room and in the living room, but she couldn't see any flowers.

"I'll have to get Mum some flowers," said Ellie. She quickly put on her shoes and went into the garden. She started to pick some of the pretty flowers. When she had a big bunch of flowers, she came back into the kitchen and hid them carefully in a cupboard.

Next, Ellie ran upstairs and made her mum a colourful card. She hid the card in her bedroom. Finally, she went back to the kitchen to get the flowers. Her brother, Tom, was in the kitchen. He was holding a big picture.

"What's that?" Ellie asked. "It's a Mother's Day present for Mum," said Tom. "I've painted her a picture of flowers."

Just then, Dad came into the kitchen. He was holding an enormous bunch of flowers. "I bought these flowers yesterday," he said. "Our neighbours kept them at their house for me, because I wanted to surprise your mum."

Ellie smiled and took her flowers out of the cupboard. She showed them to Tom and Dad and they all laughed happily. "Mum is going to be very surprised," Ellie said. "She's got so many flowers!"
